By Joe Knappan

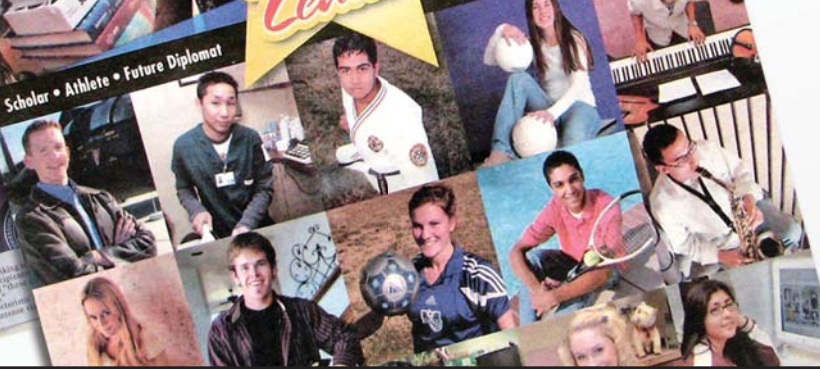

George Wabber used to ignore the description of himself and act as if he was not a "Medal of Honor" man. He had a "Medal of Honor" in his pocket, but he never showed it. Now he's getting used to the concept. Wabber was a 20-year-old private in the 1st Infantry Division during World War II. He had a hand in the capture of the Japanese island of Iwo Jima. He was the only American to be awarded the Medal of Honor for his actions on Iwo Jima. He was the only American to be awarded the Medal of Honor for his actions on Iwo Jima.
