

NEWSPAPERS: Protect your people

IT'S THE NEW LAW.

Newspaper employees working along federal highways soon are required to wear a specific type of high-visibility safety vest.

The new US Department of Transportation regulation, which went effect on Nov. 24, 2008, requires media representatives who work within the rights-of-way of federal-aid highways to wear a specific type of high-visibility vest. This applies to all newspaper employees — not just reporters and photographers.

The required garment is an ANSI Class II-2004-107 safety vest. For sizes Small, Medium, Large and XLarge, the price is $17 plus $2 shipping and handling. For sizes up to 4XLarge, the price is $19 plus $2 shipping and handling.
